

Dear Valued Customer,

The S & K smooth contoured rings are designed to hold even the heaviest scopes on the heaviest recoiling rifles without slipping. It is necessary to clean the inner scope ring with alcohol and dry it completely before installation. We recommend you tighten the cone screws as tight as possible while holding onto the short end of the allen wrench and then turn the allen wrench around holding onto the long end & tighten another 1/8 turn. It is not possible to over-tighten the cone screws as the key will fall before damage can be done to any other component. When installing this mount on heavy scopes or heavy recoiling rifles, some customers prefer to spread a couple of drops of rubber cement (as found in tube repair kits) in the scope ring and let it dry before installation. When this is done the scope cannot slip. We do not advise the use of glue or epoxy. If these instructions are followed, complete satisfaction is assured.

NOTE: YOU HAVE THE OPTION TO EXCHANGE OR RETURN THESE RINGS FOR ANY REASON, BUT THEY MUST BE IN NEW CONDITION. DO NOT TIGHTEN THE POINTED SET SCREWS INTO THE RINGS IF YOU PLAN ON RETURNING THEM!!!

S & K assumes no liability for property damage or personal injury as a result of improper mounting. Consult a professional gunsmith.

INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please read carefully

Careful installation of the mounting rings will assure you a lifetime of service and satisfaction.

PLEASE –

1 – Mark the ring halves before disassembly so that ring halves may be replaced exactly as they come (steel rings only).

2 – Place ring studs into the holes in the bases, snug cone screws then LOOSEN THEM ½ turn.

3 – Place scope in position, being especially careful to allow proper eye relief. Be sure cross hairs are true, horizontal hair being truly horizontal.

4 – Tighten ring tops carefully and evenly so that the "gap" between halves is even.

5 – Retighten the cone screws, completing the installation. Thank you for being a S & K customer. Good Luck and Good Shooting!
